Atom Weapons to Be Used to Defend Berlin

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States—speaking through Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara—has given the Russians clear notice it is ready to wield nuclear weapons if necessary to defend West Berlin.

McNamara gave this message into his report Friday—that he found nuclear-armed U.S. and West German ground and air units in a high state of combat readiness and in his measured declaration that:

"It is our policy to utilize whatever weapons are required to protect our vital interests, and we quite clearly consider access to Berlin a vital interest to the Western world and to the United States."

Never before had McNamara coupled a statement with a pointed discussion of the nuclear battlefield and air weapons arrayed in West Germany, facing the Iron Curtain.

Informal sources confirmed McNamara's intent, saying:

"This is to tell them we have the nuclear power and we intend to use it."

McNamara refused to spell out the conditions under which U.S. nuclear weapons would be brought into play—for example, whether this would come only if Allied ground forces were in danger of being overwhelmed.

"Obviously, we are not going to define in advance of the act the specific circumstances under which we would use any particular military tactic or particular military weapon," the defense secretary said.

It appeared obvious that McNamara spoke with the full backing of the White House.

The aim is to impress on the Russians that the United States is determined not to be pushed out of Berlin or to allow the Communists to impede access to the encircled city.

Sight of Land Looked Good to Survivors

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP) — Survivors of the Flying Tiger airliner that ditched in the Atlantic waved and shouted with joy at the sight of land as the rescue ship Celerina reached Antwerp today.

U.S. Air Force Maj. Harry O. Benson of Marshfield Hill, Mass., cried out: "Everybody of our group is in good physical condition!"

The Swiss freighter carried 27 of the survivors it plucked from stormy seas 500 miles off Ireland on Sunday after the chartered airliner with 76 persons aboard—mostly American servicemen and their families—made a crashed landing on a flight to West Germany.

Of 48 survivors, 21 have since been transferred to hospitals in Ireland and England. Twelve bodies were recovered. Sixteen other passengers are missing and presumed dead.

Aboard the Celerina, the survivors lined the deck rails or peered through portholes as the rescue ship moved up the River Scheldt to Antwerp. Some wore makeshift clothes provided them by the ship's crew or flown to them.

Carol Ann Gould, 22, of Lynchburg, N.J., one of the hostesses on the airliner, appeared on the deck wearing slacks and a sweater.

Samuel T. Nicholson, 32, of Dallas, Pa., navigator of the Flying Tiger airliner who was landed in Ireland after being reached, flew here to meet other survivors.

"I am in pretty good shape," he said. "I have chemical burns on the back of my legs—you could say second-degree burns. I have a few other small burns but they are not worth worrying about. I am lucky, compared to other people."

Nicholson was unable to walk unaided, but otherwise looked fit. He said the airliner pilot, Capt. John D. Murray of Oyster Bay, N.Y., also aboard the Celerina, suffered head cuts and apparently a slight concussion, but he was not seriously injured, Nicholson said.

The journey for the 24 men and 3 women picked out of the Atlantic ended at noon as the Celerina nosed into the lock at the entrance to the docks.

A spokesman for the U.S. Service Hospital at Burdorp, England, said survivors under treatment there are making excellent progress and are just fine.

Top Watermelon Producers

RALPH MONTGOMERY, CHAIRMAN OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AGRICULTURE COMMITTEE presented awards to the winners in the Big Watermelon Growing Contest on Friday at the Rotary Club luncheon. First prize $100 went to Aubrey Goodwin of Willisville for his 138½ pound melon and second prize $75 went to Ronnie Byers for a 105 pound size. The larger melon was shipped to the Seattle World's Fair and was viewed by thousands during the few days it was on display. The smaller one went to a high official of Sertoma International, an international service club, in York, Nebraska. It too received considerable publicity for Hope.

Tighter Drug Control Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tighter drug control bill has sailed through the House, an unexpected dividend for the administration that can be credited largely to the sedative drug thalidomide.

Thalidomide, a tranquilizer blamed in Europe for birth malformations after it was taken by pregnant women, was banned from sale in this country under existing law.

But the outcry over the effects of the drug in Europe definitely spurred the passage of the new bill, which had been stalled for months in committee.

The bill parallels a Senate-passed measure, but there are many differences in language that probably will require a conference. The push is on, however, to get the bill cleared to the President before Congress goes home. Its backers see little difficulty in adjusting the two bills.

The House replaced a provision to excuse drug manufacturers from listing bad side effects of the drugs in medical journal advertising, if the ads tell doctors they can write for full details.

Reps. John Blatnik, D-Minn., and John D. Dingell, D-Mich., led the fight to change this provision and make manufacturers tell of the bad effects along with the good in their ads.

State Has $4.5 Million to Spend

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Department said Thursday it hopes to put under contract an additional $4.5 million in interstate highway work by June 30.

Department director F.R. Oliver said the projects which will be pushed throughout the state's 520-mile super highway system are:

Interstate 55 from near Luxora to the Missouri line, a stretch of Interstate 30 south of Benton, North Little Rock to Conway, the Russellville area, Forrest City and vicinity, from Highway 4 near Lamar to west of Clarksville and sections near Alma and Texarkana.

Oliver said preliminary engineering work is underway now on the White River bridge north of DeWalls Bluff and on a Cash River structure east of there.

The proposed contracts include $39.5 million in federal funds now allocated to the state and state money at a ratio of 10 to one.

The federal government has allocated $27.4 million in funds to the department for the 1963-64 fiscal year.

Conway Votes Bonds

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Conway voters approved by a vote of 366 for to 4 against Thursday a $260,000 bond issue to finance construction of a plant for Prince Gardner Co. The firm hopes to employ 150 persons, beginning Jan. 1, in the manufacture of leather accessories. The bonds, approved under Act 9 of 1960, will be repaid in 20 years through rental fees.

Foreign Aid Slash Put Back on Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee has responded to a plea of President Kennedy and restored to the foreign aid money bill much of the funds cut by the House.

Tacked back onto the bill was $792,400,000 of the $1,124,400,000 House reduction.

Making the day doubly sweet for the administration, the committee loosened shackles placed by the House on the way some of the aid funds may be spent.

The appropriations measure now goes to the Senate floor carrying $4,422,800,000 for foreign aid. There, says Assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, administration forces face the "fight of our lives" to beat back aid slashers.

Kennedy originally asked for $4,961,300,000 in foreign aid. A bill setting ceilings for military and economic spending abroad this year cut the request to $4,754,800,000. Then the House this month voted its big cut.

Even if the amount voted by the committee is approved by the full Senate, the appropriations finally available to Kennedy likely will be somewhat less because a conference committee will have to choose between the Senate and House figures.

In addition to changing the money totals the Senate committee modified House amendments aimed at banning aid to countries whose ships carry arms or other supplies to Cuba. Kennedy would have discretionary authority to waive the ban.

And, the committee substituted for a House bar against any aid to Poland and Yugoslavia discretionary authority for Kennedy to extend economic help to those countries upon a determination and a report to Congress that:

(1) It is vital to U.S. security, (2) The recipient country is not controlled by the Sino-Soviet axis and (3) It will promote a country's independence from the international Communist conspiracy.

Christian Church Plans Homecoming

Sunday, Sept. 30, is Homecoming at First Christian Church and the attendance goal has been set for 220 persons.

Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m. followed by morning worship at 10:50 a.m. The Church choir has prepared special music for the Homecoming service and the Rev. Clyde Goddard, pastor, will talk on "God Calls Us to Fellowship."

Following the morning service all visitors, friends and church members are invited to the annual Homecoming luncheon in Fellowship Hall. There will be no Vesper service but the Emmet Methodist Church has invited local members to visit their revival meeting Sunday night.

Walker Awaiting Developments

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Edwin A. Walker, the former major general who called for volunteers to oppose any troops sent to integration-troubled Mississippi, said today that developments would determine his next move.

"I'm standing by," Walker said, "awaiting developments waiting to see whether troops go into Mississippi."

He added that he expects to go to Mississippi personally if soldiers are sent to enforce court orders for integration.

Walker appealed for 10,000 volunteers representing every state to "rise to a stand beside Gov. Ross Barnett at Jackson, Miss."

Self-Employed Tax Bill to the President

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate sent to President Kennedy today the long-debated and much-revised bill which would permit self-employed persons to set up tax-deductible pension funds.

The Senate passed the compromise version by a 70-8 roll call vote. The House had passed it Tuesday by a unanimous 31-0 tally.

Its White House fate is uncertain, Kennedy has said he will study it carefully but has given some indication it might be vetoed.

The President told business editors and publishers Wednesday that he was concerned at the revenue loss, estimated at $115 million a year. He said also that it might well be more appropriate as a part of next year's tax revision bill, for which he is expected to propose a number of pension provisions.

The chief executive probably will be able to pocket veto the legislation if he chooses. Congress is expected to adjourn before the deadline for his decision 10 days after the bill reaches him.

Sponsors of the bill estimate that 7 million self-employed persons and 11 million others who work for them could benefit. Its foes say that only high-income persons will be able to make much use of the plan.

Much support has come from doctors and lawyers although many independent businessmen also pushed for it.

Under the final compromise, the self-employed person could put up to 10 percent of his earned income into a pension plan each year up to a ceiling of $2,500. Half of his contribution would be tax deductible.

The beneficiary also would have to set up a non-discriminatory pension plan for any of his employees who have more than three years of service.

Dick Powell Treated for Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I always insist on the truth because there is so much at stake," said actor-producer Dick Powell. Then he calmly told newsmen that he's under treatment for cancer.

The versatile show business veteran was cheerful throughout the discussion of his condition Thursday and said he was confident of making a full recovery.

Alluding to his apparent good health, he asked with a smile: "Do I look like a terminal case?" Powell, 57, and his wife, actress June Allyson, met with newsmen in the couple's Beverly Hills home.

The actor-producer, who heads the highly successful and prolific Four Star Productions, then disclosed that he has been receiving radiation treatments for a malignancy on a gland on the right side of his neck and another in a pocket in his chest.

Powell said he had been hesitant about talking of his illness until "all these rumors got all over town."

"One rumor," he said, "had me having a tremendous heart attack. Now that I know so much about cancer I am more afraid of getting pneumonia."

He explained that he had received six radiation treatments at the UCLA Medical Center and added that the physician in charge, Dr. Justin Stein, "is pleased with my progress and told me he expects to eliminate the condition."

Powell said he'll return to his studio Tuesday to complete six television shows in which he will appear under contract to the NBC network. Next spring he hopes to leave for San Francisco aboard this 36 foot cruiser.

U.S. Willing to Abandon Nuclear Tests

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States remains willing to agree immediately to a ban on nuclear tests in the air and under water if a ban on all tests cannot be worked out, President Kennedy says.

He told representatives of the Gandhi Peace Foundation on Friday that such an agreement would represent a significant step toward curbing the arms race and the radioactive pollution of the atmosphere.

A White House statement setting forth Kennedy's position said the Gandhi group suggested the United States make a unilateral declaration it would cease atmospheric testing.

But the President, the statement said, pointed out "the difficulty of a proposal of this sort because of the previous Soviet breach of the moratorium."

The Soviet Union broke a three-year voluntary moratorium on nuclear testing a year ago with a series of tests. Since then the United States has resumed testing in the atmosphere and underground. Russia now is running off a second cycle of tests.

The Indian delegation, representing a private foundation, called on the President at the start of an international test-ban mission that will take it next to Paris and London. Another delegation is taking the foundation's appeal to Moscow.

In reaffirming U.S. willingness to agree to a ban on underwater and atmospheric tests, Kennedy said this country is "prepared to come to an agreement today."

Kennedy, the White House said, agreed with the Indian group "on the urgent necessity to bring about an agreed end to nuclear weapons testing" and that "early action should be taken to reduce the threat of war which nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction now pose."

The President said present U.S. disarmament proposals "address themselves to this key area of concern."

So far the Soviet union has rejected American-British proposals to ban tests in the atmosphere, underwater and in space. The Soviet representative at the Geneva conference called the proposals a step in the right direction but acceptable only if the United States and Britain also agreed to halt underground testing as well.

Evacuation No Means of Survival

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A regional Civil Defense Officer said Thursday the advent of long-range missiles and the reduction of attack warning time have destroyed most of the merit of evacuation as a means of survival.

William C. Parker of Denton, Tex., director of Region 5 of the Civil Defense Agency, said "the thinking now is that a fallout shelter plan is the best answer and offers the best prospects for survival to the population as a whole."

Parker was keynote speaker at a meeting of Arkansas Civil Defense leaders in Little Rock.

Parker said there is apparently enough existing shelter space to care for 50 and 60 million persons. The space, he said, was found during a national survey program now underway.

It involves the marking of shelter space in existing buildings, modification of buildings to provide protection and improvements to make shelters habitable.

Parker said the objective of the program is to make available shelter space for every American by 1967.

Jane Hanna, also a speaker at a joint conference of the Arkansas Women's Civil Defense Council and the Arkansas Association of Local Civil Defense Directors, presided at the posting of signs on the first public fallout shelter in Region 5.

Miss Hanna is assistant to the secretary of defense.

Region 5 includes Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

Signs were posted on the Union National Bank in Little Rock. It is one of the buildings certified by architects and engineers as virtually ready-made for protection from fallout.

Local University Station Is Experimenting With a Small Ice-Box Size Watermelon

By MARY ANITA LASETER

It may be that some day Hope will be as well-known for its small refrigerator watermelons as for its giant varieties. At least, if the U of A Southwest Branch Experiment Station has anything to do with it, the more convenient sized melon will have one of its origins in Hope.

Since 1940 such a program of development has been underway at the local Experiment Station. One of the current goals has been to produce a male sterile plant which could be crossed with a pure line, economically, by anyone to produce a true hybrid. Such a male sterile plant has been produced, and the people at the experiment station are striving to improve the product so that it will be (1) a refrigerator sized melon weighing 4 or 5 lbs., (2) of good quality, (3) with a tough rind and high yield, and (4) both wilt and anthracnose (a disease) resistant.

Many will ask, "How can a male sterile plant be reproduced?" The remarkable thing about the one now being used by the local station is that though some of the seeds from the plant are sterile, others are productive, thus enabling the line to be continued.

Several good promising lines have been developed at the SW Branch Station. There were 135 strains produced this year, and 5,000 melons were harvested and analyzed this season, with the last harvest coming about Sept. 15. The operation will move indoors, and this winter melons will be grown in greenhouses in order to have another generation.

Impatience is not one of the qualities a scientist is privileged to enjoy. And, make no mistake about it, this is a highly scientific procedure which has been going on since 1940 with an interruption for the duration of World War II. In the development of a male sterile plant, some seeds were radiated in experiments in 1956. It is hoped to eventually produce hybrid melons much like hybrid corn.

Two major melons have been released, both bearing the name of our town. The "White Hope" is a white rind melon found mostly in Florida now, due to its earliness. It is highly resistant but not anthracnose resistant. The "Hope Diamond" is seen on the market now. It is both wilt and anthracnose resistant and is similar to the "Black Diamond."

It seems that a number of experiment stations in the south are cooperating in this effort. In Arkansas Dr. V. M. Watts, head of the Horticulture and Forestry Department, U of A, is project leader or director of this breeding program. C. M. Bittle is assistant director in charge of the SW Branch Experiment Station. Besides its regular employees, in the summer the station has seven or eight high school boys working with the pollination and the harvest analysis.

What about the famous giant Hope melons? Well, they aren't being overlooked. For three years there has been a program to develop a large melon that is disease resistant. But at least three more years are needed before results can be shown.

Rome isn't the only thing "not built in a day."

Appeals Conviction on False Pretense

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dan E. Edens, convicted of false pretense and sentenced to 7 years in prison, has posted a $20,000 bond to carry his appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Edens' conviction was upheld by the Arkansas Supreme Court. He also has before that body an appeal from conviction of embezzlement by agent, for which he was sentenced to 18 years by Poinsett Circuit Court. The pretense conviction came in Greene Circuit Court. A conviction on an over-draft charge was reversed for Edens last June by the State high court.

Body Identified

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock police said Thursday they have recovered from the Arkansas River the body of a man missing since last Saturday. He was identified as Artie James Wakefield, 45.

Police said Wakefield and two other men were walking on the river bank Saturday night. After swimming in the river one of the men fell asleep and the other left.

It was not discovered that Wakefield was missing until the following day, when it was reported to police.

One Way to Go to Grid Game

COLLEGE HEIGHTS, Ark. (AP) — Members of a national fraternity at Arkansas A&M College don't get enough walking on campus.

So, come Saturday, the members of Phi Lambda Chi—some 300 strong—are going to walk from the A&M campus to Pine Bluff, a distance of 50 miles. The walkers will be carrying a football in an effort to advertise a football game between A&M and Arkansas Tech.

The students will leave the A&M campus early Saturday and will walk in pairs for one hour each. They are due to arrive in Pine Bluff shortly before kick-off time Saturday.

Auxiliary to Help United Fund Drive

Hope Junior Auxiliary will participate in the residential canvassing for United Fund Drive, it was decided at the organization's September meeting. The chapter will cover a specific area the third week in October. Mrs. Bill Reinhardt will represent the Auxiliary as a member of the United Fund Board.

Representatives from the Nashville, Ark. chapter, Mrs. Louie Dickinson and Mrs. Jay Toland, invited the local chapter members and other area residents to attend the first production of "Follies," to be staged October 9, at the Nashville Junior High Auditorium. Members of the Nashville Auxiliary and their husbands will make up the musical cast which was written by Mrs. Jack Bennett.

The Christmas Bazaar workshop will be held at the home of Mrs. James Branch each Thursday at 10 a. m. until all articles are ready. Mrs. Forney Holt and her welfare committee start their clothing project in the Hope Elementary schools next week. One Junior High student was outfitted recently.

Raise Sights, Businessmen Are Told

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas businessmen will have to raise both their sights and their salaries if they are to attract blue-chip college graduates, the president of Arkansas Careers, Inc. said Thursday.

W. F. Rector spoke at a joint meeting of the Personnel Association of Arkansas and the National Management Association here.

He said that out-of-state firms are now carrying off Arkansas educated students without a fight. Rector said almost 300 national firms recruit men at the University of Arkansas. Only 12 state firms do such recruiting, he said, and only five of these on a regular basis.

The graduates from the top of their class perform at a rate that amazes most businessmen, he said, and national firms are offering staggering competition in their effort to employ them.

Arkansas Careers, Inc., dedicated to keeping young men employed in the state, hopes to offer top jobs to 25 academically high-ranking seniors during "career day" at the University of Arkansas Dec. 4-5.

Attorney General Cancels Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy canceled a scheduled speaking engagement at Stanford University tonight to remain in Washington and direct Justice Department activities in the University of Mississippi desegregation situation.

The attorney general had been scheduled to address a student group at Stanford en route to the University of San Francisco where he is to speak Saturday at the dedication of a new law school building.

A department spokesman said developments in Mississippi will determine whether he will be able to meet the San Francisco engagement.

Conferences with aides on the Mississippi situation resumed as soon as Kennedy reached his office today.

Lt. Governor of Mississippi Cited by Court

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The University of Mississippi made a battleground by the racial tug-of-war between state and federal governments, turned to a lazy football weekend today without its barricades and its helmeted citizen guards.

Impending trouble—perhaps violence—over enrollment of James H. Meredith, a Negro, in the all-white university, loomed at Memphis and New Orleans.

Today's scheduled action comes in New Orleans, where Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi has been ordered by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to appear and show why he should not be held in contempt for blocking Meredith's third try at registration.

The lieutenant governor has not said if he will honor the summons.

Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett ignored a similar summons Friday. The eight-judge court found him guilty of civil contempt and demanded he purge himself by 11 a.m. Tuesday.

If he doesn't, the governor—battering ram of the state's head-on thrust against integration—faces a $10,000 daily fine and arrest. He would be held in custody of the U.S. attorney general.

Still another shadow of trouble for the defiant Mississippians arose at Memphis, Tenn., 87 highway miles to the northwest. There the federal government massed U.S. marshals and other federal peace officers. Giving them a housekeeping hand was a detachment of 110 Army engineers.

They bivouacked at Millington Naval Air Station, where a source said the marshals numbered 402 at sundown Friday and that the number of troops actually had reached 540 instead of 440.

This source also said determined marshals figured to use naked bayonets if necessary to move Meredith onto campus. Whether the bayonets would be in the hands of federal troops or federal marshals was not reported.

But these grim reminders of the historic struggle between Mississippi and the U.S. government—greatest and gravest since the Civil War—remained over the horizon. Sky-larking students made ready to go to Jackson, the state capital, for the football game between Ole Miss and the University of Kentucky in the new stadium that is the pride of the Magnolia State.

The determination of the federal government to put Meredith into Ole Miss as the first Negro student—ever knowingly admitted in 114 years—is on record.

Burke Marshall, assistant U.S. Attorney general, assured the appeals court in New Orleans Friday that court orders would be carried out by the Justice Department.

"We're prepared to respond to whatever emergencies may develop," said Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense, in Washington.

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy said: "Mr. Meredith will be registered."

Equally determined, apparently, were the officials of Mississippi, despite withdrawal of their massed array of peace officers that turned back Meredith on his third attempt to enroll.

However, H. C. Strider, chairman of the State Game and Fish Commission, announced that 250 supervisors and game wardens have been alerted to take part in the Ole Miss segregation defense—if needed.

Public Works Bill Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $3.5 billion water projects authorization bill was approved by the Senate Public Works Committee Thursday.

The bill included $182 million for the comprehensive Arkansas River Basin plan in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas and $11 million for the White River Basin comprehensive plan in the state.

Republicans have protested that the measures are "park barrel" projects.

The figure authorized Thursday is about $1 billion higher than a similar water works bill still under consideration by the House Public Works committee. The two versions would have to be reconciled in a conference committee.

Says Rights Cry Often Misused

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mississippi's Gov. Ross R. Barnett is just a Johnny-come-lately in waving the state rights' flag to defy the federal government and the Supreme Court.

Other states and their leaders have done the same, almost from the beginning of both the government and the court. State rights are an important part of the American system of government. But the state rights' slogan has often been a handy, and sometimes reckless, excuse to have things both ways: To boost the union when it's convenient and to defy the union when that's convenient.

Fortunately most of the time—except during the Civil War—when one state tried defiance under the state rights' blanket, others wouldn't. So there wasn't much gangling up.

Barnett is doing the defying now in Mississippi by refusing to let a 29-year-old Negro veteran of the Korean War, James H. Meredith, register at the all-white University of Mississippi.

This defiance is immediately against a lower federal court which ordered Mississippi authorities to let Meredith in the school. But basically it is a defiance of the Supreme Court's ban on racial segregation in public schools.

To show how the state rights' cry has often been used as a political gimmick, American historians Samuel Eliot Morrison and Henry Steele Commager, in their "Growth of The American Republic," said:

"Almost every man in public life between 1798 and 1860 spurned it when his section was in the saddle and embraced it when his constituents deemed themselves oppressed."

"Almost every state in turn declared its own absolute sovereignty, only to denounce as treasonable similar declarations by other states."

And Charles Beard, in his "Rise of American Civilization," said: "From the foundations of the republic all factions were for high nationalism or low provincialism upon occasion, according to their desires at the moment."

Mississippi is a prime example. South Carolina, when it felt it was hurting in the 1920s from a tariff act passed by Congress, declared the doctrine of "nullification."

X15 Engine Gets Longest Workout

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The X15 rocket ship's mighty engine got its longest workout today, 127 seconds.

Previous high was 120 seconds. Test pilot John B. McKay flew to an altitude of 7,000 feet and hit a maximum speed of 2,963 miles per hour.

McKay was testing heat transfer rates over the metal skin, stability with part of the tail removed, and ability of a newly designed cockpit window to withstand heat.

To maintain the long burning time, McKay held the engine's power to 75 per cent of maximum thrust for the first 75 seconds after it was dropped from the B15 mother ship.

This meant it decided it had the right to declare any act of Congress unconstitutional and refuse to abide by it.

So it threatened to jail any U.S. officials who tried to collect tariff duties in South Carolina, Virginia, Alabama and Georgia wanted no part of this. And Thursday night Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy quoted the Mississippi State Legislature at the time as passing this resolution:

"This state owes a duty to the union above all minor considerations. The doctrine of nullification is contrary to the letter and spirit of the Constitution."

Now, in effect, Mississippi has adopted the doctrine of nullification.

South Carolina finally nullified its nullification when Congress, while authorizing President Jackson to use the Army and Navy if he had to, nullified South Carolina by amending the tariff act a bit.

The Supreme Court was defied almost from the moment the justices sat down. In 1793 Georgia, which wouldn't go along with South Carolina on the state rights' bit in the 1820s, challenged the right of the court to consider a suit against a state. Its House of Representatives passed a resolution that any U.S. marshal trying to execute a court order in such a suit should be hanged without benefit of clergy.

(Note: The Confederate States did not set up a supreme court. Their Senate complained about the "monstrous despotism" of the U.S. Supreme Court.)

But other states in one way or another—Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Maryland—defied the court at one time or another.

Presidents Jefferson and Madison, before they were presidents, helped along the idea that the state has the right to decide for itself whether it will accept an act or decision of the federal government.

This was in a resolution written by Jefferson and passed by the Kentucky Legislature and another written by Madison and approved by the Virginia Legislature. Both men were angry about the alien and sedition laws rammed through by their political enemies, the Federalists who ran Congress.

Historian Beard, looking back upon the undiminished survival of the court despite all the attacks on it, wrote in his "American Government and Politics":

"In spite of the attacks of its critics and the fears of its friends, the Supreme Court yet abides with us as the very strong tower defending the American political system."

The Supreme Court itself told off state officials like Barnett in 1953 when Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus tried to prevent integration of a Little Rock high school by using state troops. He folded up fast when President Eisenhower sent in the federal troops, which is what President Kennedy may have to do in Mississippi.

The court said constitutional protection against discrimination in public schools because of race or color "can neither be nullified openly and directly by state legislatures or state executives or state judicial officers nor nullified indirectly by them through evasive means."

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U.S. Department of Labor filed suit Thursday against the Buck Hurley Gin of Amagon in Jackson County, contending the firm had violated the Fair Labor Standards Act. The suit, filed in federal district court, cited four alleged violations, failure to pay the legal minimum wage, failure to pay time and a half over 40 hours, failure to keep accurate records and employment of minors.

Thrice Married Woman Finds Today's Men Big Frauds

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Where are the men of yesterday? To call the men of today the superior sex is to laugh. They can't face pain much less life, and as for being good providers, it's the wife not the husband, who pulls down the pay.

I earned more — and still do — than all three of my husbands. None were men enough to even suggest going 50-50 on expenses; so, rather than degrade myself by asking for money, I paid my own and the children's way.

Back of every so-called successful man today is a wife who has worked to the bone.

A man in our community recently retired at 65. From what I don't know since he never did anything. To reinforce his ego, his wife pulled wires and got the members of his club to throw a testimonial dinner in his honor. They made speeches. He made a speech and everybody cheered.

Yet when his wife took a bow all she got was a faint ripple of applause for the simple reason that she, loyal, devoted human being who had paved the way to success for him, was practically unknown.

She worked at home on the company policy and books while he fronted at the mill.

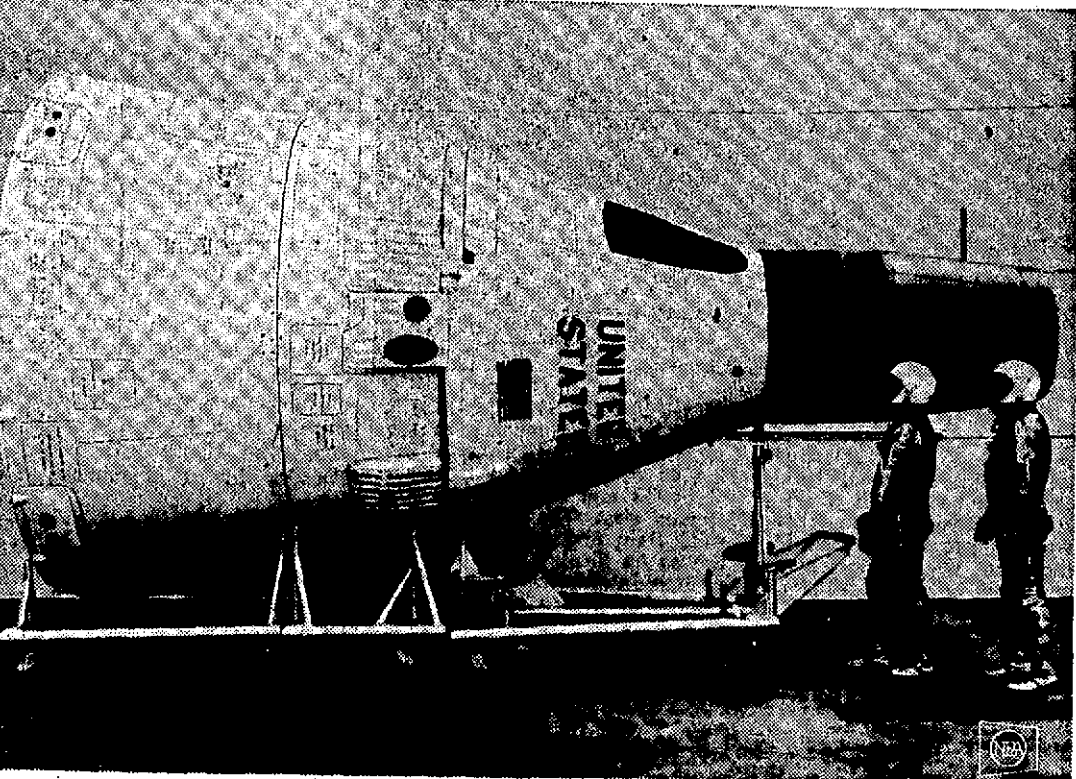

It was her business sense which kept things going when other textile mills folded like cards during the depression. She rarely appeared at social functions — had no time, but her husband's explanation was, "Mary is such a homebody. I can't drag her away from the children." Bah!

I know a bachelor girl who pretends she thinks men are wonderful — only to hold her job. "The pitiful no-accounts," she said to me last night. "I do most of the work in the office and they take the credit. If one proved a small fraction of what a man is supposed to be, I'd die from joy."

It hasn't always been so. Take my father — a man who was really a man: big, square-shouldered, six feet of brawn and brains. Mama was small and fragile — though plucky enough to bear us children — eight in all.

SCOUTS ON THE HILL—Ten members of Capitol Hill's exclusive Boy Scout Explorer Post 1200 and its sponsors are shown, above. Active members are all congressional page boys. From left, front row: Ron Robertson, Joel Magnuson, son of Rep. Don Magnuson, Kinberg, Jeff Wilson, Craig Swick, Bob Meek, Pierre Tullier. Back row: Gary Back, Paul sentative; House Minority Leader Charles Halleck, member of the sponsoring committee; Aubrey H. Jones, assistant scout executive for the Anacostia district; John Bishop, and Louie D. Thornhill, post committee chairman and member of Capitol architect's office.

GEMINI IN ORBIT—Two spacesuit-garbed technicians examine an engineering mock-up of the Gemini space capsule. This is how it will appear when it first goes into orbit. Similar in shape to the Mercury, the two-man Gemini has about 50 per cent more volume and weighs about twice as much. It is being developed for orbital flights up to two weeks in duration and for rendezvous and docking missions with orbiting rockets.

Weir Farm Goes on Saturday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U. S. Attorney Robert D. Smith said Thursday the Lake Providence, La. farmer who bid $60,000 April 17 to purchase the Chicot County farm of James Weir would pay the money today.

Weir's farm was sold to satisfy federal liens on penalties for overplanting rice crops.

Smith said the bill would be paid by attorney Jack Wyle for L. J. Warren, the purchaser. The total bill with interest, came to $61,369, he said.

Store to Abide by U. S. Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission announced that Pfeifers of Arkansas, a Little Rock department store, has agreed to abide by an FTC order prohibiting it from falsely invoicing and advertising furs.

The FTC said the store's newspaper advertisements gave fictitious regular prices for furs offered as reduced, and falsely stated that purchasers would save one-fourth, one-third, one-half and more.

The complaint added that Pfeifers did not maintain adequate records to support pricing and value claims for furs, and on various invoices it omitted and abbreviated information required by the Fur Products Labeling Act and its rules.

The order halting the challenged practices also is binding upon John Hannans, manager of the company's fur department. It was contained in an agreement between the company and FTC staff counsel, which the commission accepted.

The agreement was for settlement purposes only, the FTC said, and does not constitute an admission by the company that it had violated the law.

Wire Service Plans Fast Sports Wide

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Associated Press announced today that effective Dec. 2 it would put into operation a national sports wire in Teletypewriter monitor copy and tape operating at a speed of words per minute. The wire will operate 22 hours daily instead of the present 1.

It would be the fastest wire of its kind in the world with a 25 per cent boost in capacity over current Teletypewriter operations and even 10 per cent faster than any all-cap news wire now operating.

The announcement was made at the annual meeting of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

Operating hours of the new wire will be from 8 a.m., New York local time to 6 a.m. New York time, 22 hours daily. The current TTS sports wire will be raised to 60 words per minute Oct. 14 and the current all-cap sports wire will be merged with this by Dec. 2.

Blinded Youth Has Surgery

HOUSTON (AP) — Bill Bradley Jr., a 9-year-old Arkansas youngster blinded by lightning, remains in satisfactory condition today following surgery on his right eye at Methodist Hospital.

The El Dorado youngster checked into the hospital Wednesday for a second series of two operations which, it is hoped, will restore his sight.

The first operations were performed last July 2 and Aug. 1. No definite date has been set for the second operation on his left eye.

Since the first series of operations the boy has had some improvement in his vision with the aid of thick glasses.

Doctors said Thursday his left eye was not progressing as well as his right.

Doctors hope, with the aid of contact lenses, to eventually give Bill normal sight again.

The lightning bolt struck him while he was trying out for a baseball team.

America Speeds Relief to Spain

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — The United States speed relief to Spain's flood victims today as new rains spread more misery through the ravaged industrial districts around Barcelona.

Touring the region stricken by the flash floods of Tuesday night, Capt. Gen. Augustin Munoz-Grandez, vice president of the Franco government, said the death toll may reach 600 or more. It was officially announced 470

Supervisor Named

Russellville, Ark. (AP) — Alvis Owen of Atlanta has been named supervisor of the Ozark-St. Francis Forests in Arkansas. He succeeds J. B. Dahl, who is retiring for health reasons after over 32 years service. Owen begins his duties this week.

Winrock Winners

MEMPHIS (AP) — Winrock Farms won 10 first places Thursday at the Mid-South fair in Memphis, showing only young cattle. The herd, which also garnered several second and third place prizes, will be shown at the Arkansas Fair and Livestock Exposition Oct. 1-6.

Bodies Have Been Recovered

More than 300 persons were still listed unofficially as missing. The injured totaled 200. About 1,500 also were reported homeless.

U.S. forces at the joint Spanish-American airbase at Zaragoza sent earth-moving equipment to help clear up the rubble. The U.S. Embassy in Madrid sent powdered milk, rice, noodles and other food to Barcelona.

Comedians Run Gauntlet of Diseases

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's tough on new comedians to discover that the established comics have taken up most of the known diseases for their pet projects.

The rules of show biz are such that a funnyman must also have his serious side—as spearhead for some worthy cause. Soupy Sales realized this as he started pushing into the television bigtime as slapstick favorite of the younger crowd.

He chose as his particular cause that disease afflicting thousands of teen-agers—drop out.

The youngster who drops out of high school and goes no further with his education has been getting attention from many civic-minded persons, up to and including President Kennedy. They reason that the drop out is a waste of the nation's resources.

"I had been doing charity work, but it wasn't being directed toward anything," said Soupy. "Jerry Lewis has muscular dystrophy and the other comedians have their own causes. I thought since I had worked with kids, I should find something that affected them."

"Combating the drop out is just as important as fighting any of our dreaded diseases. This is a kind of disease that can blight lives, yet it can be cured by the people themselves, if given enough love, understanding and guidance."

Soupy has gone all out with special television and radio spot announcements to coincide with the return to school. He also carries on the campaign with his daily television show in Los Angeles. The local station, KABC, has put together a 25-minute short called "Drop Out Blackouts."

The comedian revealed he almost dropped out of high school as a lad. "I figured I was going into show business," he said. "You don't need a diploma to tell jokes. I thought."

"But I changed my mind and even graduated from Marshall College in Huntington, W. Va., getting my degree in journalism. I'm glad I did. Now I write all my own material."

Youngblood had been watching the two approaching cowboys a couple of minutes before they saw him. They drew up their trots, looking, uncertain, then apparently talked about it. Then they came on, letting their horses walk.

XXIV
 About noon on July 27, the Ranger detachment arrived—four men in charge of Lieutenant Ruth.

They came in town by the south road and made their way the length of Main street, sitting on their long legged horses easily, looking over the town.

They were not on parade, but rather they rode in an informal bunch, like men who have been on serious missions together. An observer could not tell which one was the leader. Lieutenant Ruth was the same as any of the other three in appearance, but they all looked capable, like the kind of men that anyone would think about twice before crossing.

Behind them they led two haltered pack horses with neatly tied loads.

The townspeople who noticed these Rangers shook their heads and muttered, "Only four?"

But when these men pulled up at the jail, the sheriff came out and greeted them warmly and said nothing about how few they were.

Ruth shook his hand. "I hear you've got trouble brewing?"

"A little," said the sheriff. And then he gave the lieutenant the details up to date. They went into the sheriff's office and after a long huddle, an announcement came forth.

No guns were to be permitted in Comanche Wells until after Aug. 1. Members of the sheriff's force, aided by his posse and the Rangers would be on all roads leading into town to disarm visitors. The guns would be returned when the visitors left. Anyone who did not choose to surrender his guns, would have to turn back. He could not come into town.

On July 30 Deputy Youngblood was in charge of the station on the south road a half mile out of town. For help he had the Ranger or they called Smitty and two special possemen, old Eb and a young dry-goods clerk.

He had stationed Smitty with his rifle 200 feet back from the road, near enough to see clearly but a long distance for a hand gun. The Ranger had thought it a good idea and was sitting on the ground now with his back against a live oak tree, his rifle lying carelessly across his legs, pointed toward where they waited by the willow clump.

Youngblood had chosen the Ranger for the rifle post because he didn't trust either of the others to use good judgement at such a distance. Old Eb was calmly chewing tobacco and moaning snatches of "Sourwood Mountain." He looked as if he might be able to use the shotgun he carried, but the young dry-goods clerk had appeared pale and nervous since he had strapped on the new pearl-handled .45.

Youngblood had been watching the two approaching cowboys a couple of minutes before they saw him. They drew up their trots, looking, uncertain, then apparently talked about it. Then they came on, letting their horses walk.

They did not call out but approached warily as if to pass without any words. Youngblood let them get as near as the distance across a room before he stepped into the road, bringing up his gun quickly. "Hold it, fellers!"

One of them said, "What's going on here?" and the other, "What's the matter?"

Youngblood had thumbed the hammer back on his .44. "Keep your hands where I can see them," he said. Seeing that they made no aggressive move, he tilted the barrel of his gun away from them. "Fellers, we got a new rule in town. For the next three days, no guns. You'll have to take yours off here or turn around and rid back where you came from."

They were two tough looking riders. The skinny one said, "I don't care nothing about your town rules. I ain't going to take off my guns."

"Then you won't go into town," the deputy told him.

The other cowboy said, "What's that blacksmith and that there dude doing? They're wearing guns."

"They're both deputies. Sworn in by the sheriff."

Oldtimer Enjoys Using the Present

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP)—Are you an old-timer?

An old-timer is a person who enjoys using the present as a reminiscent springboard back into the past. Anything that happens today reminds him of something else that happened in some yesterday of his life.

There is a difference between an old-timer and an old fogey. An old fogey is a living fossil who feels everything in the past was better. An old-timer simply gets a nostalgic pleasure out of recalling what went before—whether it was better or worse.

You are probably an old-timer yourself if you can remember when—

Is The Lord Our God

What am I?

You are a small part of a great plan. The more you learn the more you realize the greatness of that plan and find true humility.

Only when you acknowledge the fact that all men are in the image and likeness of God do you understand your relationship to all men, who are equally important parts of that greater plan and vitally necessary to its fulfillment.

The pattern is simple. The evidence is overwhelming. Hate destroys. Love creates. Peace is ours when we abide by the fundamental law of God, which commands, "Love thy neighbor as thyself."
